

CCUS

Eric De Coninck, Business Development director at ArcelorMittal Ghent

Eric De Coninck, after graduating in civil engineering from the State University of Gent (1977 – 1982) continued as Researcher in the lab of a paper mill. Afterwards (1983) he joined N.V. Sidmar, currently ArcelorMittal. Working as a maintenance manager in the rolling mills, as a production manager in the steel plant, and project engineer within the company and its affiliations (Bremen), 2008 he was appointed Chief Operating Officer in charge of the Upstream industrial operations of the Liège plant and 2009 COO of the Fos sur Mer steel mill, in charge of engineering and industrial operations. 2011 he became Project manager at the ArcelorMittal Ghent plant, 2012 he was appointed AM FCE CTO Business Development director, in charge of new technologies, including the sustainability projects of the ArcelorMittal group within the AM Innovation.