

Dr. Heleen De Wever leads VITO's Biotechnology team, with major research lines on bioprocess intensification and CO₂-to-product bioconversions. Current activities on CO₂ bioconversion relate to the production of monomers and polymers through fermentation or enzymatic processes as well as the production of platform and bulk chemicals through fermentative or (bio)electrochemical approaches.